Unconfirmed Rumor of Another Disastrous Engagement at Port Arthur.

Is Said at London to Have Been "Destroyed by Fire" at Port Arthur.

Warships Cruising in the Pe-Chi-Li Gulf-Vladivostock Squadron Routed by Storm.

LONDON, Feb. 16 .- The voluminious dispatches from the far East published here this morning are again characterized by absence of real light on the situation. Numerous unconfirmed and conflicting rumors are given, and among them is a report of another engagement at Port Arthur in which the Russians lost eight vessels sunk and ten captured. In connection with this rumor the owners of the British steamer Foxton Hall from Parry Dec. 11, via Port Said, for Port Arthur, with coal which was detained by the Russians at Port Arthur, have received news that she has been destroyed by fire.

A correspondent of the Daily Mail who witnessed the engagement off Port Arthur confirms this morning his previous accounts of the fight and asserts again that one Japanese torpedo boat was sunk and another deserted by its crew in a sinking condition and subsequently captured by the Russians. He says also that the Japanese lost one battleship and had one cruiser put out of action, and that the colonel of the Fifteenth Rusisan Regiment was killed by a shell during the bombardment.

Cablegrams to the Daily Mail from Wei-Hai-Wei and New-Chwang report a Japanese fleet with transports cruising in the gulf of Pe-Chi-Li, apparently with the idea of effecting a landing near Port Dainy.

Driven Back by Storm.

PARIS, Feb. 16.-A dispatch to the Eclair from St. Petersburg says it is affirmed there that after the bombardment of Hakodate (which has not been officially corroborated) the four Russian cruisers which took part in the engagement were driven back to Vladivostok by a storm.

JAPANESE STEAMSHIP SUNK BY RUSSIANS

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 15.-A dispatch has been received here from Viceroy Alexieff dated Feb. 15, saying:

Russian cruiser division, telegraphs that his division destroyed a steamer in Tasugaro straits.

"A violent storm accompanied by heavy snow has been raging for three days and nine degrees of frost have been registered. The enemy has not been encountered." Major General Pflug, Viceroy Alexioff's chief of staff, telegraphs that the situation at Port Arthur yesterday was unchanged. Reports from Yin-Kau, near New-Chwang, he says, declare that the Japanese are preparing to land at Tsinjenda. A message received from the frontier guard says that mounted patrols, believed to be Japanese, were seen yesterday in the vicinity of Hsin-

Those present at the meeting approved the proposed plan of curtailing the domestic administrative expenses and diverting the amount thus saved to the war fund. It was decided to support the army and navy heartily and also devise a plan for the regratulation to Vice Admiral Togo. A detailed report of his battle at Port Arthur has not been received from Vice Admiral Togo by the Navy Department, and the public is, as yet, without the full particulars of the engagement. A letter from one of the men who participated in the naval fight says that the torpedo attack succeeded through a clever feint. The majority of the vessels comprising the torpedo flotilla maneuvered in front of the Russian line and held its attention while the rest of the torpedo boats worked around to the rear and got close to the enemy before being discovered. Then they fired their destructive missiles and scurried away from danger as quickly as possible. No further news of the Russian Vladivostok squadron has been received here. It is thought to have returned to the port of Vladivostok in preference to risking a fight or exhausing its fuel. Enormous military activity continues, but the government carefully conceals its plans and does not indicate the date of any projected movement. Although every moment of delay enables the Russians to become better prepared for the conflict, the Japanese apparently are unconcerned and confident, They fully realize that the limited capacity of the Transsiberian Railway, the distance of the Russians from their base of supplies and the lack of communication by s-a sets limitations on the proposed accomplishments of Russia in Manchuria and the Russian officers in Manchuria are be- the bill to make General Grant a full Siberia. Room Incidents Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 .- Marcus A. Hanna, who fought many a winning battle in life, lost his last valiant fight when he succumbed to death at 6:40 tonight. It had been a stubborn contest between this man of indomitable wifl and the grim reaper. Since last Friday his life had hung by a slender thread and he had approached near the dread portal on several occasions. Artificial stimulants really had kept the spark of life flickering for three days, but even under these conditions the grim determination and the remarkable vitality of this man of affairs brought an hope to family and friends. One of the most pathetic incidents of his death was that Mrs. Hanna, who, all through the long and trying ordeal, had borne up calmly and been tireless in her AND EULOGIZE HIS LIFE ministration to the wants of her husband, was not at the bedside when death came.
